

Emily Shaffer
Economic & Commercial Officer
U.S. Embassy, Muscat, Oman

Emily Shaffer has served as the Economic and Commercial Officer and Deputy Political / Economic Section Chief at the U.S. Embassy in Muscat, Oman since September 2011. Emily previously served as the Economic and Commercial Officer at the U.S. Embassy in Dar-Es- Salaam, Tanzania. Before that, Emily served as Consular Section Chief at the U.S. Embassy in Kigali, Rwanda. She began her career in New York City, where she worked as a management consultant for Monitor Group before obtaining her Masters in Economic and Political Development at Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs. Emily grew up attending international schools in East Africa and studied undergraduate business and French at Georgetown University. She is married to Systems Engineer Ali Dualeh. Emily will depart Oman in August 2014 to serve as the African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA) Trade Officer within the Africa Bureau's Office of Economic Policy Staff at State Department headquarters in Washington.