

Dillon Aero, Inc., Program Director: Keith R. Edwards, U.S. Army (Retired).

Keith retired from the U.S. Army in Dec '10. He is a Senior Army Aviator and Acquisition Corps officer with 26(+) years of Department of Defense service. He has ten years of tactical aviation and 16(+) years of weapon system acquisition experience. Keith received a Master of Science (MS) degree in Systems Acquisition Management & Contracting, from the Naval Postgraduate School, in Monterey, California ('95). His Army assignments included key positions within systems requirements development, science & technology, and program management organizations. In April '11, he joined Dillon Aero in the capacity of Program Director. His duties & responsibilities include program planning & management, market analysis & engagement, financial surveillance, proposal development, and contract negotiations. Keith also serves as the Dillon Aero ISO 9001:2008 Management Representative.